

AT&T
and
Ryla
Teleservices

Can your network
compete with the big guys?

RYLA TELESERVICES® AND AT&T. When Ryla opened their doors with an ambitious mission to lead the teleservices industry, they placed a call to the world's networking company. Now, with Voice Over IP solutions from AT&T, the fast-growing customer contact and data services provider isn't just enjoying lower long-distance costs. It also has the flexibility to implement new advanced features like Web chat and e-mail response management – at no extra cost, which all adds up to higher profits. And since the system is maintenance free, Ryla has more time to focus on what matters most – their customers. CAN YOUR NETWORK DO THIS?
